

Teachers, Parents, and Caregivers:

The following worksheet was developed by the Economic Awareness Council as a fun way to reinforce concepts early elementary school children are learning about money (especially coin recognition or money math).

For more activities and information about money and economics, visit www.econcouncil.org.

© Economic Awareness Council, 2005

Funny Money Riddle Rhymes

1. Even though Abraham Lincoln was very tall.
The amount I am worth is very small.

I am a _____.

2. This is little a tricky little rhyme.
You could trade me and 5 pennies for one dime.

I am a _____.

3. Keeping your money in me is best.
I keep your money safe and give you extra money called interest.

I am a _____.

4. Working is great for people of all ages.
It gets the job done, and you earn me as your wages.

I am _____.

5. If you found one of me, you would shout and holler.
I am worth 100 cents.

I am a _____.

6. Although one of me is worth 10 cents and that's plenty -
If you had two of me, you could count to twenty.

I am a _____.

7. On my front is Washington, our first president.
But I am worth only twenty-five cents.

I am a _____.

Funny Money Choices

Bank
Dime
Dollar
Nickel
Money
Penny
Quarter

